DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This action is in response to the RCE/amendment filed 01/18/08. New claims 42-78 have been added.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 01/18/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant states that the new claims 42-78 are apparatus counterparts to allowed method claims 1-18, 20-21, 23-36 and 39-41, includes all of the elements of the allowed claims, and, therefore, are allowable for the same reasons (page 18). Claims 42-63 and 76-78 are directed to an apparatus comprising a service provider configured to perform certain functions. Similarly, claims 64-75 are directed to an apparatus comprising a client configured to perform certain functions. Although the functions recited in claims 42-78 corresponds to the allowed method claims 1-18, 20-21, 23-36 and 39-41, claims directed to an apparatus must be distinguished from the prior art in terms of structure rather than function, i.e., apparatus claims cover what a device is, not what a device does (MPEP § 2114).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 4. Claims 42-78 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lee et al. (US 4,484,027). Lee discloses a subscription satellite television (SSTV) system for providing satellite TV service to subscribers (fig. 1).

With respect to claims 42-63 and 76-78, Lee specifically discloses an apparatus comprising a service provider, i.e., an SSTV transmitter for providing satellite TV service (fig. 1; col. 3, lines 17-53). Claims directed to an apparatus must be distinguished from the prior art in terms of structure rather than function (MPEP § 2114). Claims 42-63 and 76-78 are directed to an apparatus comprising a service provider configured to transmit and receive messages. Therefore, the claimed apparatus is interpreted to be a piece of hardware. However, since none of the limitations of the claims are recited structurally, Lee's SSTV transmitter, which is a hardware device, reads on the claimed apparatus.

With respect to claims 64-75, Lee specifically discloses an apparatus comprising a client, i.e., an SSTV subscriber receiver for receiving satellite TV service (fig. 1; col. 3, line 54 – col. 4, line 10). Claims directed to an apparatus must be distinguished from the prior art in terms of structure rather than function (MPEP § 2114). Claims 64-75 are directed to an apparatus comprising a client configured to transmit and receive messages. Therefore, the claimed apparatus is interpreted to be a piece of hardware. However, since none of the limitations of the claims are recited structurally, Lee's SSTV subscriber receiver, which is a hardware device, reads on the claimed apparatus.
